

LOKAYUKTA HARYANA
ANNUAL REPORT FOR THE YEAR 2016-2017
(01.04.2016 TO 31.03.2017)

I had assumed charge as Lokayukta of Haryana on 19.07.2016 and as such this is virtually the report on the functioning of Lokayukta Institution for the aforesaid period under report. However, it may be mentioned that the statistical reports forming part of this report cover the period 12.01.2016 to 31.03.2017, as my learned Predecessor Hon'ble Mr. Justice Pritam Pal had submitted interim report for the period from 01.04.2015 to 17.01.2016, which formed the major part of the Financial Year 2015-16.

With a view to address the problems of redressal of citizens' grievances, the President of India, vide notification dated 40/3/65-AR(P) dated 5.1.1966, appointed the Administrative Reforms Commission. The object for appointing the Commission was to ensure the highest standards of efficiency and integrity in the public services, for making public administration an effective instrument for carrying out the social and economic policies of the Government and achieving social and economic goals of development for the benefit of citizens of the country. The Commission was asked to examine the various issues. One of the terms of reference, specifically assigned to the Commission, was to deal with the problems of redress of citizens' grievance, namely:-

- i) the adequacy of existing arrangements for redress of grievances; and
- ii) the need for introduction of any new machinery, for special institution, for redress of grievances.

The Commission, after having detailed deliberations on the subject, submitted its report to the Prime Minister vide letter dated 20.10.1966. The suggestion made by the Commission was that there should be one authority dealing with the complaints against the administrative acts of Ministers or Secretaries to Government at the Centre and in the States. Another suggestion was made for setting up another authority in each State and at the Centre for dealing with complaints against the administrative acts of other officials. It was also suggested that all these authorities should be independent of the executive, the legislative and the judiciary. It was so noted by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in its judgment in case of Justice Chandrashekaraiiah (Retired) Vs. Janekere C. Krishna and others, (2013) 3 SCC 117.

The relevant extract of the report of the Commission, contained in para 21, 23 to 25, 36, 37 and 38 thereof, reads as under:-

“21. We have carefully considered the political aspect mentioned above and while we recognize that there is some force in it, we feel that the Prime Minister’s hands would be strengthened rather than weakened by the institution. In the first place, the recommendations of such an authority will save him from the unpleasant duty of investigation against his own colleagues. Secondly, it will be possible for him to deal with the matter without the glare of publicity which often vitiates the atmosphere and affects the judgment of the general public. Thirdly, it would enable him to avoid internal pressures which often help to shield the delinquent. What we have said about the Prime Minister applies mutatis mutandis to Chief Minister.

Cases of corruption:

23. Public opinion has been agitated for a long time over the prevalence of corruption in the administration and it is likely that cases coming up before the independent authorities mentioned above might involve allegations or actual evidence of corrupt motive and favouritism. We think that this institution should deal with such cases as well, but where the cases are such as might involve criminal charge or misconduct cognizable by a Court, the case should be brought to the notice of the Prime Minister or the Chief Minister, as the case may be. The latter would then set the machinery of law in motion after following appropriate procedures and observing necessary formalities. The present system of Vigilance Commissions wherever operative will then become redundant and would have to be abolished on the setting up of the institution.

Designation of the authorities of the institution:

24. We suggest that the authority dealing with complaints against Ministers and Secretaries to Government may be designated "Lokpal" and the other authorities at the Centre and in the States empowered to deal with complaints against other officials may be designated "Lokayukta". A word may be said about our decision to include Secretaries actions along with those of Ministers in the jurisdiction of the Lokpal. We have taken this decision because we feel that at the level at which Ministers and Secretaries function, it might often be difficult to decide where the role of one functionary ends and that of the other begins. The line of demarcation between the responsibilities and influence of the Minister and Secretary is thin; in any case much depends on their personal equation and personality and it is most likely that in many a case the determination of responsibilities of both of them would be involved.

25. The following would be the main features of the institutions of Lokpal and Lokayukta:-

- (a) They should be demonstrably independent and impartial.
- (b) Their investigations and proceedings should be conducted in private and should be informal in character.
- (c) Their appointment should, as far as possible, be nonpolitical.

- (d) Their status should compare with the highest judicial functionaries in the country.
- (e) They should deal with matters in the discretionary field involving acts of injustice, corruption or favouritism.
- (f) Their proceedings should not be subject to judicial interference and they should have the maximum latitude and powers in obtaining information relevant to their duties.
- (g) They should not look forward to any benefit or pecuniary advantage from the executive Government.

Bearing in mind these essential features of the institutions, the Commission recommend that the Lokpal be appointed at the Centre and Lokayukta at the State level.

The Lokayukta

36. So far as the Lokayukta is concerned, we envisage that he would be concerned with problems similar to those which would face the Lokpal in respect of Ministers and Secretaries though, in respect of action taken at subordinate levels of official hierarchy, he would in many cases have to refer complainants to competent higher levels. We, therefore, consider that his powers, functions and procedures may be prescribed mutatis mutandis with those which we have laid down for the Lokpal. His status, position, emoluments, etc. should, however, be analogous to those of a Chief Justice of a High Court and he should be entitled to have free access to the Secretary to the Government concerned or to the Head of the Department with whom he will mostly have to deal to secure justice for a deserving citizen.

Where he is dissatisfied with the action taken by the department concerned, he should be in a position to seek a quick corrective action from the Minister or the Secretary concerned, failing which he should be able to draw the personal attention of the Prime Minister or the Chief Minister as the case may be. It does not seem necessary for us to spell out here in more detail the functions and powers of the Lokayukta and the procedures to be followed by him.

Constitutional amendment-whether necessary?

37. We have carefully considered whether the institution of Lokpal will require any Constitutional amendment and whether it is possible for the office of the Lokpal to be set up by Central Legislation so as to cover both the Central and State functionaries concerned. We agree that for the Lokpal to be fully effective and for him to acquire power, without conflict with other functionaries under the Constitution, it would be necessary to give a constitutional status to his office, his powers, functions, etc. We feel, however, that it is not necessary for Government to wait for this to materialize before setting up the office. The Lokpal, we are confident, would be able to function in a large number of cases without the definition of his position under the Constitution. The Constitutional amendment and any consequential modification of the relevant statute can follow. In the meantime, Government can ensure that the Lokpal or Lokayukta is appointed and takes preparatory action to set up his office, to lay down his procedures, etc.,

and commence his work to such extent as he can without the constitutional provisions. We are confident that the necessary support will be forthcoming from the Parliament.

Conclusion.

38. We should like to emphasise the fact that we attach the highest importance to the implementation, at an early date, of the recommendations contained in this our Interim Report. That we are not alone in recognizing the urgency of such a measure is clear from the British example we have quoted above. We have no doubt that the working of the institution of Lokpal or Lokayukta that we have suggested for India will be watched with keen expectation and interest by other countries. We hope that this aspect would also be fully borne in mind by Government in considering the urgency and importance of our recommendation. Though its timing is very close to the next Election, we need hardly to assure the Government that this has had nothing to do with the necessity of making this interim report. We have felt the need of such a recommendation on merits alone and are convinced that we are making it not a day too soon.”

On the basis of abovesaid report submitted by the Administrative Reforms Commission, different States of the country brought different pieces of legislation, as per their own suitability.

Having its own peculiar features, the present Haryana Lokayukta Act came to be enacted by the State Legislature in the year 2002, which replaced earlier Act, i.e. the Haryana Lokayukta Act, 1997

The Haryana Lokayukta Act, 2002 (hereinafter referred as the 'Act') which has come into force w.e.f. 01.08.2004 empowers the Lokayukta to look into the complaints and grievances of general public against delay in taking action or inaction on the part of the public servants concerned. The Lokayukta Institution has been brought into existence in January, 2006 with affirmed commitment on the part of State Government to provide to the people of the State an efficient, transparent and corruption free administration. The Lokayukta organization comes under the ambit of the aforesaid Act and the Rules framed thereunder i.e. The Haryana Lokayukta (Functions, Powers, Inquiry and Investigation) Rules, 2008 (hereinafter referred as the Rules).

Various steps are initiated from time to time for disposal of the complaints and/or redressal of the grievances of the complainants. The complaints, which do not fall within the ambit of the aforesaid Act or in which no prima-facie case is made out, are filed at the preliminary stage itself. However, in respect of complaints in which a prima-facie case is made out, the concerned public servant is called upon to give his comments and further investigation, if warranted, is made after providing due opportunity to the complainant as well as to the concerned official/ public servant. A formal order is, thereafter, passed giving the result of the enquiry/investigation. Recommendations are made to the Competent Authority for action against the public servant if warranted from the facts and circumstances of the case.

During the period under report the detail of complaints is given herein below:-

DETAILS OF COMPLAINTS:

- i) As on 11.01.2016 pending complaints. = 708
- ii) Fresh complaints received from 12.01.2016 to = 650
31.03.2017

(List of such complaints may be seen at Annexure -I)

- iii) Total complaints for disposal (708 +650) =1358
- iv) Complaints disposed of during the period under report. = 333
(List of such complaints may be seen at Annexure -II)
- v) Total number of complaints pending as on 31.03.2017. =1025

Statement showing the number of complaints in which action has been taken against the erring public servants by the concerned departments during the course of proceedings in this institution may kindly be seen at Annexure -III. Statement showing the number of complaints in which reports in terms of Section 17(2) of the Act have not been received from the departments concerned so far, is at Annexure-IV.

As observed in the earlier Annual Reports submitted by my learned Predecessors that due to awareness in general public about the working of this institution the receipt of complaints is on the increase. It is also pointed out that many a times, grievances of complainants are redressed and required necessary action is taken by the concerned authority during the course of inquiry and investigation of complaints, in that situation, and in the interest of justice, such complaints are disposed of at that stage, without any further action at the end of this Institution. The Lokayukta, Haryana in his annual report makes recommendations/ suggestions on various issues on the basis of grievances received against public servants. Instructions/ directions are also issued by the Government from time to time on the basis of recommendations/observations made in the annual report.

The Section 17(2) of the Haryana Lokayukta Act, 2002 envisages that the Competent Authority is required to examine the reports and intimate this institution within three months about the action taken on such reports. It has been observed that, in most of the complaints action taken reports are not being sent by the departments concerned i.e. within stipulated period as required under the Act, although even the Chief Secretary to Government Haryana issued instructions to all the Heads of Departments, Divisional Commissioners, Deputy Commissioners and Registrars of all the Universities in Haryana State for complying with the provisions of Section 17(2) of the Act. Section 17(4) of the said Act further stipulates that the Governor shall cause to be laid on the table of State Legislature, a consolidated Annual Report within six months of its receipt with an explanatory memorandum indicating the action taken thereon and the reasons for not taking action in a given case.

This Act is an endeavour towards providing efficient, transparent and corruption free administration to the public. During the period under report, I visited the various Districts Jails in the State and held meetings with the jail authorities as well as jail inmates. They were acquainted with the various provisions of the Haryana Lokayukta Act, 2002 as well as the Haryana Lokayukta (Functions, Powers Inquiry and Investigation) Rules, 2008. The Section 10(3) of the Haryana Lokayukta Act, 2002 envisages that any letter written to the Lokayukta by a person in police custody or in a jail or in any asylum or any other custodial place, shall be forwarded to the Lokayukta unopened and without delay by the police officer or the person incharge of such jail, asylum or any other custodial place. If the Lokayukta is satisfied, that it is necessary so to do, treat such letter as a complaint made in accordance with the provisions of sub-Section (2). In order to meet this requirement of the Act during the year under report I have heard the grievances of jail inmates in person and tried to redress their grievances by issuing directions to the competent authority.

In this Act, the appointment and functions of the Lokayukta have been provided for inquiry and investigation into allegations and grievances against public servants and for matters connected therewith. The common man has been given the right to approach the Lokayukta by way of filing complaints under Section 10 and projecting grievances against denial of any right or act of mal-administration or inaction on the part of any public servant. Section 16 of the Haryana Lokayukta Act, 2002, also provides for punishment to a person who willfully or maliciously makes any false complaint under the Act. This is to ensure that no public servant is maligned or involved in a false complaint.

In so far as the present Act, 2002 is concerned, in my opinion, if some amendments, as suggested in ANNEXURE-A are incorporated in the Act by the Haryana Government then this Haryana Lokayukta Act, 2002 can be made more effective and strong to deal with the menace of corruption and grievances of general public. The aim and object of the Lokayukta institution is also to monitor the act and conduct as well as working of the public servants in order to promote transparency and accountability in their functioning for the establishment of a good governance and a fair administration.

At this place, it is also pointed out that as and when any request is made for filling up the vacancies of this institution the same is not taken seriously and still many of them are lying vacant, and this hampers the smooth working of this institution. It is therefore, recommended that steps should be taken to streamline the recruitment procedure in Lokayukta Organization. The present system of borrowing the employees on deputation from other State Government Departments needs to be amended and Lokayukta should be given free hand in this respect, like other Head of Department.

The acute shortage of staff is affecting the working of this institution negatively. As per rules, the Lokayukta organization has not been allowed to constitute its own staff strength/cadre and all the regular employees are borrowed from different Haryana Government departments and is struggling on the mercy of other departments. Section 19(1) envisages that Lokayukta may appoint in consultation with State Government such officers and staff as he may consider appropriate for the discharge of functions under this Act. The Lokayukta organization since its inception has been under staffed. Resultantly, the staff crunch is an impediment for discharge of functions of Lokayukta institution smoothly and expeditiously.

This issue has been raised with the concerned authority time and again but to no avail. However, I am constrained to observe that the scarcity of the staff in the Lokayukta organization has not been removed. Thus, inadequate and posting of staff even less than the sanctioned posts is the biggest road block in quick discharge of functions of Lokayukta organization in the given quantum of cases/complaints.

It is also pointed out that though the Lokayukta is competent to appoint required staff but as per Appendix B of the Haryana Lokayukta (Functions, Powers, Inquiry and Investigation) Rules, 2008, almost all the posts provided in the Appendix B are to be filled in by deputation from officials/officers of the State of Haryana. In spite of many requests State Government or its departments are not in a position to provide staff on deputation to the posts provided in Appendix B and number of posts are lying vacant. Since it is not possible to fill in the posts on deputation, so for the smooth functioning of this Institution and to provide speedy justice to the aggrieved, Appendix B of the Rules is required to be amended so that adequate staff could be posted in this Institution. As such it is proposed to amend the aforesaid Rules, as mentioned in ANNEXURE-B.

During the period under report it has been generally observed that as and when any complaint is forwarded to the head of the Government/ department for enquiry or reply thereon giving the time of 45 days, the action thereon is not taken within the stipulated time. In some of the cases, reminders and D.O. letters are also written by the learned Registrar and in spite of that the replies/comments/ enquiry reports are not received in the office of Lokayukta well in time. All this indicates the indifferent attitude of authorities towards this institution of Lokayukta. Due to the aforesaid attitude adopted by the higher authorities the action on the complaints at the end of this institution gets delayed and accordingly, the complaints of allegations and grievances raised under the Act by the complainants are not redressed in the prescribed time. In this regard it is suggested/ recommended that the provision for initiating proceedings of committing contempt of court for non compliance of orders/ directions of this authority, be made in the Act, as proposed above. It is also to add here that earlier in the Haryana Lokayukta Act, 1997 this provision of initiating contempt of courts proceedings against the erring officers/ officials was there in the Act. Thus, to make this Act more effective and strong this provision of initiating proceedings under the contempt of courts Act be restored in the present Act.

During the course of enquiry and investigation held by this institution of Lokayukta, it has been specifically observed that in spite of serious allegations and grievances in the complaints initially raised by the common man before the high ups are taken in routine and very casual manner by the officers/officials. To my mind, if such complainants are properly heard and appreciated with sensitivity at their level, the same can be redressed there and then at their own end. This kind of attitude of good governance, if adopted, would go a long way to save the time and money of the public at large as well as of this institution.

During the period under report it has been observed that in most of the cases relating to the Panchayats Department, the record of panchayats were found missing, as the same is kept under the custody of Sarpanches. Thus, in my view the Block Development and Panchayat Officer of the concerned Block should be made custodian of the Panchayats' record in order to streamline the system.

It has been further observed that the public servants of the Municipal Committees/ Municipal Councils and Municipal Corporations under the Urban Local Bodies Department, as well as Town & Country Planning Department, Haryana have not been cooperating in number of cases. I, therefore, recommend that whenever allegation about inaction on the part of the authorities in the department of Urban Local Bodies in not taking actions in various cases and not cooperating this institution of Lokayukta, a very stern action should be taken against the delinquent public servants so that it serves as a deterrent against such attitude on their part in future.

It has been also observed that in the police department when complaint is made to the concerned Police Station, the guidelines issued by the Constitution Bench of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India while interpreting Section 154 Cr.P.C. in case of "Lalita Kumari Versus Government of U.P. and others" Writ Petition (Criminal) No. 68 of 2008 as well as the guidelines issued by the Director General of Police, Haryana from time to time are not adhered to and there is no rational in registering FIR under Section 154 Cr.P.C. and registering complaints under Section 155 Cr. P.C. causing discrimination, which is to be eradicated. It has been further observed that in cases relating to private encroachments instead of taking action under Section 145 / 107 of Cr.P.C. F.I.Rs. and counter F.I.Rs. are being registered. Such lapses on the part of police should be viewed seriously and stern action should be taken against such police officials which would go a long way in improving the image of the State police.

From the above, it is clear that there are laws and regulations in place for checking the corruption/maladministration. However, the trouble lies with their implementation. In order to achieve total transparency and fairness in the administration it is necessary that the public servants found guilty of corruption or maladministration should be awarded strictest possible punishment under the law. For this purpose it is necessary that the Government agencies change their mind set and attitude by adopting zero tolerance to corruption, inefficiency and maladministration.

After my taking over as Lokayukta of Haryana, I have tried my best to ensure that the grievances and complaints made by the complainants before this Institution of Lokayukta, are dealt with, in a fair and judicial manner and, necessary recommendations, wherever required for taking corrective measures have been made in order to eradicate corruption and maladministration so as to promote transparency in the working of the Governmental machinery for strengthening the faith of the people in the administration of the State.
